

PARISH CHART OF ACCOUNTS
and
GUIDE TO THE ANNUAL REPORT

Introduction:

The Chart of Accounts for parishes has been developed for consistent accounting applications. The Annual Report has been designed to provide for either a cash reporting method or an accrual reporting method. It includes a statement at the end of the year to report balances of the major outstanding asset and liability accounts. The suggested method of reporting is a blended system and is a more "cash oriented" system than a true accrual method. It is felt that this provides a practical method of reporting parish financial operations in a format that can be more easily understood. Under this cash oriented system, all revenues and expenditures (cash transactions) would be reported during the year as under the cash method. However, at the end of the year, the Annual Report provides for the inclusion of the recording of outstanding amounts, such as accounts payable, which also provides the advantage of recognizing expenses incurred but not necessarily paid during a fiscal period.

V. Statement of Disbursements

Included in this section are all expenses and costs associated with operating the parish for the fiscal year. In requesting information on the disbursements, it is recognized that parish accounting may break down expenses reflecting various parish functions. This would include expenditures for school activities, religious education activities, and pastoral and parish administration areas. In the course of bookkeeping during the year, expenses should be classified according to the area they were intended.

It is also recognized that there may be some expenditures that are not immediately identifiable as being for a particular function or purpose such as parish, school, or religious education. In those instances, a breakdown of the expenditure may be made by allocating a reasonable percentage of the expense to the different areas. It is important to note that when making percentage allocations of expenditures, care should be exercised in order to make reasonably accurate percentage allocations. There should be some substantiation and a basis established for the allocation formula.
