

Dear <<Salutaion>>,

May the Lord give you peace,

As we find ourselves amidst the sacred season of Advent, with the joyous celebration of Christmas and the dawn of the New Year just days away, I am profoundly touched by your enduring support and commitment to our Diocese. The sacred connection we share as a community, rooted in the love of Christ and our dedication to uplifting those in need, is especially poignant during this time of reflection and anticipation.

In the spirit of Advent and the imminent celebration of the Christmas season, I extend a heartfelt invitation for your active participation in our Diocesan Annual Appeal. Inspired by the timeless wisdom of Ecclesiastes 4:12, our theme for this year echoes the strength and unity found in walking together on the path of our Lord:

"Where one alone may be overcome, two together can resist. A three-ply cord is not easily broken."

These words resonate with the essence of our shared journey as children of God. United by our common faith in the Triune God, we form a solid and unbreakable bond. During this Advent season, as we await the arrival of the Christ Child, let us reflect on the power of unity and its transformative impact on the lives of those in need.

At the heart of the Diocesan Annual Appeal lies a profound expression of our shared commitment to our Lord and our fellow brothers and sisters. The appeal supports 38 crucial ministries that actively address Catholic faith formation, educating and preparing our seminarians and championing the development and healing of the needy and marginalized. In embracing the true spirit of Advent, let us focus on how our collective efforts can bring about positive change in the lives of others.

As we prepare to welcome the Prince of Peace into our hearts and homes, I earnestly request that you take a moment to reflect on the significance of your generosity and consider how you can contribute to this year's Diocesan Annual Appeal. In the spirit of the season, let us be beacons of hope, love, and justice for our brothers and sisters in need.

Thank you for your unwavering faithfulness and commitment to our Dioceses, and may the blessings of Advent, the joy of Christmas, and the promise of a New Year filled with hope inspire us to walk together in faith, guided by the light of Christ.
